Our Strength Comes From Working Together

COOPERATION. As an electric cooperative, it's right in our name, and for good reason: It's vital to our success.

We know there's power in numbers, and that's exactly why Cooperative Principle No. 6, Cooperation Among Cooperatives, is so important. Co-ops serve their members best and strengthen the cooperative movement when we work together.

Hamilton County Electric Cooperative does that in numerous ways.

At the most basic level, electric co-ops support one another in times of crisis. When a major storm hits a nearby co-op, we offer help to restore service as quickly as possible. And we know that if we ever need help, our neighbors will be there for us.

The electric co-ops in Texas combine forces through Texas Electric Cooperatives, our statewide association, proving that when small organizations use the power of aggregation, they grow in clout, efficiency and economy.

When we work together, good things happen.

The power of numbers gives us a louder voice at the state Capitol when legislators make decisions about utilities. We also share safety and training resources and expertise through the association's Loss Control program.

We save money through our TEC membership on purchases of poles and equipment, and even the printing and production costs of this magazine, because of the economy of scale.

Nationally, we join forces with more than 900 electric cooperatives through the National Rural Electric Cooperative Association, which not only has the ears of Washington, D.C., decision-makers but also helps represent cooperative interests before regulatory bodies.

Through NRECA's Cooperative Research Network, we get information about new technologies that can help us control costs, improve productivity and deliver superior service.

Your cooperative does whatever it takes to provide you with the very best service at the lowest price possible. And when we come together with other co-ops, our message is carried far and wide to the benefit of all members. ■

Hamilton County EC 86th Annual Meeting

Tuesday, October 7

Circle T Arena

4007 Highway 36, Hamilton

Hamilton County Electric Cooperative invites members to attend the annual membership meeting October 7 at the Circle T Arena.

Dinner 5–6:15 p.m.: Circle T Arena’s Crossfire Steakhouse and Cantina will cater a buffet-style meal featuring fried catfish and shrimp, grilled chicken, barbecue brisket and sausage, a selection of sides, and dessert. It’s not necessary to register before dining.

Registration: A registration card was mailed to each member August 26 along with the ballot for the director elections. Be sure to bring your registration card with you to avoid waiting in line to obtain one. You will present the card to receive an attendance gift and to be entered for the prize drawings. Members must be present to win prizes.

Business Meeting: The meeting’s official business will begin at 7 p.m. in the Circle T Arena. Attendees will hear information on the operation of the cooperative, results of the director elections and highlights of co-op accomplishments throughout the past year.

We hope you will come out and help us celebrate 86 years of providing electric service.

Tentative Agenda

- ▶ Call to order
- ▶ Invocation
- ▶ National anthem and Pledge of Allegiance
- ▶ Introduction of directors and guests
- ▶ President’s opening remarks
- ▶ Order of business, including director election results
- ▶ Manager’s comments and adjournment
- ▶ Drawing for prizes

HAMILTON COUNTY ELECTRIC COOPERATIVE

A Touchstone Energy Cooperative

Hamilton County EC Director Election October 7

TO MAINTAIN EQUITABLE geographical representation of all areas on the board of directors, Hamilton County Electric Cooperative’s bylaws provide for seven districts from which directors are to be elected. The three-year terms of the directors representing districts 1 and 3 expire this year.

District 1 is the area west of U.S. Highway 281 in Hamilton County served by the cooperative.

District 3 is the area of Coryell County served by the cooperative.

The cooperative will elect directors by mail ballot only. One ballot was mailed to each membership in a separate mailing August 26. Any member may vote for one candidate in each district listed on the ballot. You do not have to live in one of the two districts with board terms expiring this year to cast your vote. Please include your name and address on the ballot return envelope so the co-op can use it to confirm voter membership. Voter membership must be confirmed for votes to be counted. Please do not enclose bill payment in the ballot envelope.

Votes will be counted Tuesday, October 7. Members must mail their ballots in time for them to arrive in the Hamilton County EC post office box by noon Tuesday, October 7.

Results of the director election will be announced later that evening during the annual membership meeting and will be posted on Hamilton County EC’s website, hamiltonelectric.coop, and its Facebook page and published in the December issue of Texas Co-op Power. ■

POWER TIP

Regularly replace your air conditioning system’s filter to maintain strong airflow and boost energy efficiency.

It's a Good Time To Give Your AC a Checkup

MAINTAINING YOUR air conditioning equipment can prevent problems and unwanted costs. Keep your cooling and heating system at peak performance by having a contractor do annual checkups.

A typical maintenance checkup should include the following.

Check thermostat settings to ensure the system keeps you comfortable when you're home and saves energy while you're away.

Tighten electrical connections and measure voltage and current on motors. Faulty electrical connections can cause unsafe operation.

Lubricate all moving parts. Friction can consume extra electricity.

Check the condensate drain. A clogged drain can cause water damage in your house and affect indoor humidity levels.

Inspect controls of the system to ensure proper and safe operation. Check the starting cycle to be sure the system starts, operates and shuts off properly.

Inspect and clean or change air filters regularly. A dirty filter can increase energy costs and damage your equipment, leading to early failure. ■

Director Nominees

Ballots will be counted October 7

DISTRICT 1

The area west of U.S. Highway 281 in Hamilton County served by the cooperative.

Jack Caldwell, District 1

Caldwell has served on the Hamilton County Electric Cooperative board since 2019, bringing a strong blend of leadership, experience and community commitment to the role. He is a Credentialed Cooperative Director through the National Rural Electric Cooperative Association, underscoring his dedication to effective and informed governance.

Caldwell is a third-generation rancher and co-owner of Caldwell 2J Ranch, a diversified operation encompassing cow-calf operations, backgrounding, feedlot management, custom farming and hunting.

His hands-on knowledge of rural life and agriculture adds valuable perspective to the cooperative's mission. Caldwell has been a proud member of HCEC for over two decades and lives 10 miles northwest of Evant. He is a graduate of Hamilton Independent School District and an Eagle Scout, reflecting his lifelong commitment to service and leadership.

Gene Flippen, District 1

Flippen resides 6 miles west of Evant and has been a member of Hamilton County Electric Cooperative for eight years.

He is a graduate of Evant High School and earned a bachelor's degree in business administration from Tarleton State University. He retired in 2017 from Ally Bank, where he worked as a legal analyst, concluding a 40-year career.

Flippen is a mason affiliated with the Bee House Masonic Lodge and is a former member of the Ranger Junior College Lion's Club and the Tarleton Business Club.

Having returned to his hometown and settled on the family ranch, he considers it a blessing to reconnect with his roots and the community that shaped him. He is honored by the opportunity to continue serving that community through his nomination to the Hamilton County Electric Cooperative Board.

DISTRICT 3

The area in Coryell County served by the cooperative.

Ervin Koerth, District 3

Koerth has been a director on the Hamilton County Electric Cooperative board since 2006. He lives in Gatesville and has been a member of HCEC for more than 50 years.

Koerth is a farmer and rancher who enjoys managing his cow-calf operation. He stays busy planting and harvesting oats and Sudan grass for livestock feed and maintaining his equipment, fences and buildings. He is also the caretaker and bookkeeper for Pilgrims Rest Cemetery, located south of Evant.

Koerth earned a Bachelor of Science in physics and math from Texas State University. He was previously self-employed performing commercial and residential concrete staining, which he continues part time. He was a skipper and owner of a commercial fishing business that operated in the Pacific Ocean off the coasts of California, Oregon and Alaska. They fished for salmon, herring, sardines and squid. Koerth also taught high school math and physics at Gatesville Independent School District.

Prairie Experience Blends Tradition and Purpose in Goldthwaite

THE TEXAS BOTANICAL GARDENS and Native American Interpretive Center invites the public to Prairie Experience, the organization's annual fundraiser, held this year Saturday, October 4, at 5 p.m. at the Goldthwaite Pavilion.

Now in its 16th year, the beloved event blends heartfelt community connection with rich cultural celebration and Native American representation. Every ticket supports educational and conservation efforts in Central Texas. Attendees can expect an unforgettable evening that gives back as much as it inspires.

At the center of this year's event is Nan Blessingame, a citizen of the Cheyenne and Arapaho tribes of Oklahoma. Renowned for her captivating buckskin dance performances, Blessingame is not only a gifted dancer but also a Cedar Park-based fashion designer and cultural educator. With over two decades of experience, she is a vital force in preserving and promoting Native American heritage through design, performance and outreach. Her designs have also been featured at New York Fashion Week.

Guests will dine under the stars with a meal catered by Pecan House Grill, featuring a menu rooted in Native American culinary traditions. Whether choosing a savory meat dish or a flavorful vegetarian option, attendees can expect a thoughtful homage to the region's original foodways.

The evening also includes silent and live auctions, each packed with hand-selected treasures and one-of-a-kind experiences, including artisan-crafted goods and weekend getaways. The auctions directly support the Texas Botanical Gardens and Native American Interpretive Center.

Founded in 2004, the Texas Botanical Gardens and Native American Interpretive Center's mission is to preserve the prehistoric lifeways and environmental heritage of the region. Through hands-on exhibits, native gardens and educational programming, the garden teaches visitors of all ages how the land sustained ancient cultures—and how we can steward it today.

This year's goal is to raise $100,000 to fund operational needs and educational programs serving both children and adults throughout the year. "Each dollar raised helps us continue the work of blending science, culture and nature in ways that transform how people see their world," said Courtenay Smith, executive director.

Tickets for Prairie Experience 2025 are available through September 12. Reservations can be made online or by calling the Texas Botanical Gardens and Native American Interpretive Center at (325) 451-1075, Tuesday–Thursday, 9 a.m.–5 p.m. For more information, visit legacyplaza.org.

Walk the gardens, stay for the dinner and Native American representation, and leave knowing you helped keep the story alive. ■

Randy Erwin, District 3

Erwin, a longtime resident of Gatesville, has been a member of Hamilton County Electric Cooperative for 35 years.

He graduated from Gatesville High School and spent 20 years working for the Texas Department of Transportation before retiring. Erwin has been a committed farmer for 40 years.

One of his favorite pastimes is dancing to country music with his wife, Lynn.
